

Parents as Teachers™

All children will learn, grow and develop to their full potential.

The Partnership
Home visiting for bright futures

Being a parent is hard work.

In the first few years, children learn more and at a faster pace than at any other time in life. You help shape your child's future through the kinds of experiences you provide. Your baby was born to learn, and as a parent, you are your child's first and most important teacher.

As a Parent as Teachers family, you receive:

- Personal home visits during which your parent educator will share age-appropriate child development and parenting information, help you learn to observe your child, and address your parenting concerns.
- Screenings to access your child's overall developmental and social emotional growth, as well as health, hearing and vision.
- “Helena Parent Connections” group activities which are opportunities to share information about parenting issues and child development. Parents learn and support each other, observe your child with other children and enjoy being a parent together.
- Resource Network that links your family to other community resources.
